Building Faith in the Hearts Of Our Children

When anxious or worried, we need to tell God about it. He knows anyway, and acknowledging our fears to Him is the initial step to replacing those “mind-dividing” thoughts with trust in the Lord. But we cannot stop there. Confessing our fears, we must come to God in prayer and thanksgiving. The Apostle Paul reminds us, “Do not be anxious about anything, but in every situation, by prayer and petition, with thanksgiving, present your request to God. And the peace of God, which transcends all understanding, will guard your hearts and your minds in Christ Jesus” (Philippians 4:6-7)

How wonderful it is that God personally cares and is there to help. Not a single, nagging, aching, worrisome, stomach -tensing, blood pressure raising thought escapes His notice. Prayer, laden with thanksgiving, is where the battle is fought and won against worry and fear! When we learn to pray and trust about everything and worry about nothing, our fears become our allies. They only make us stronger in Christ, not weaker, because we learn to rush into the arms of the Savior who stills our anxieties with His peace. Thanks be to God—He is in control !
